

Book Week writing competition

Look at these story starters:

"Oh no!" he muttered.
"Not bananas AGAIN".

She ran towards the bus stop. "Wait!" she shouted hysterically. "Mark! Wait!" Mark didn't care. He got on the bus and disappeared.

He froze, rooted to the spot, as one by one every hair on his head stood on end.

I could feel the blush creep up from my neck and spread until my face glowed painfully as he continued to stare at me. This had to be the single most embarrassing moment of my whole life. Ever.

I looked him in the eye and stated, 'but it wasn't me'.

Have a look at the story starters above. Choose your favourite starter and get writing! There are two competitions you can enter:

1. Add another 200 or so words to the start of the story
- OR
2. Finish the story

Make sure you put your name, year and tutor group on your entry and mark it "Competition 1" or "Competition 2". Hand entries in at the library.

Closing date Friday 15th March 2013
